I've been reading this book to refresh my memory on digital signal processing. It is a good book, lots of theory in there, however it is a bit dry in its explanations, there are a lot of results (for example the value of a certain number series) that just are presented out of the blue while the reader scratches his head trying to come up with ...

The most common processing approach in the time or space domain is enhancement of the input signal through a method called filtering. Digital filtering generally consists of some linear transformation of a number of surrounding samples around the current sample of the input or output signal.
